

OUR OFFER TO YOU: NO LIMITS! Staff Employment and Career Opportunities

We invite you to lift all limits on your ambitions and explore the vast range of career opportunities at the University of California.

We believe you'll share our pride as a member of UC's large, diverse staff workforce of nearly 140,000 who support and contribute to the University's excellence in teaching, research, and public service.

No limits to what you can do

There are many exciting, interesting, vital things you can do with us. We seek people committed to excellence with talent, skill, and experience — including clerical, support, and service staff; technical specialists; analysts; professionals; and managers.

We have positions to fill in every imaginable field, such as administration, trades and arts, maintenance and operations, engineering and technical fields, information systems and technologies, budget and finance, public relations and development, employee and student services, the sciences, nursing and health care, and agricultural research, among others.

With us, you can find a career, full-time, part-time, temporary, contract, or internship position that meets both your professional and personal needs.

Being part of the very best

As a member of our staff, you'll have the distinction of being part of one of the largest and most acclaimed institutions of higher education in the world. You can choose from an amazing number of places to work in California, other parts of the U.S., and even abroad. UC is a vast multi-location system encompassing 10 campuses; more than 100 schools, colleges, research centers, and other facilities that are engaged in more than 150 academic disciplines; 5 medical schools and 2 dental schools; 3 law schools; and 3 Department of Energy National Laboratories.
